The Outdoor Community Center Will Facilitate Our School Progress

ACQUISITION OF "EYE-SORE PLOT" AT THIS TIME WILL SAVE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN BOROUGH'S FUTURE DEVELOPMENT—FURTHER FACTS ON SIGNIFICANCE OF PROJECT.

Here's a question—a fair one and a pertinent one—that has been raised in connection with the Outdoor Community Center which will be voted on by the citizens of Narberth at the election on Tuesday, November 8.

To what extent, if any, will the acquisition by the Borough of the tract of six acres of land and the development of that land into an Outdoor Recreation Community Center, retard the building of new school buildings and the general enlargement of school facilities for the children of Narberth?

ABSOLUTELY NONE!

Here's the situation in a nutshell.

The bond issue, which will provide the funds to acquire this land and develop it, has been authorized by the passage of the necessary ordinance by our Borough Council. Matters of this sort all come under the authority and within the jurisdiction of Council.

The whole matter of schools and public education comes under the jurisdiction of the Board of Education of the Borough—a branch of our local or Borough government that is entirely separate from our Council.

Funds used in the purchase of land for sites, and the construction and equipment of school buildings, as fixed by the State laws, are raised through the sale—by the Board of Education—of bonds which are authorized by the citizens through a popular vote.

The bonding capacity of the Board of Education is entirely separate and distinct from the Borough Council's authority to issue bonds.

In other words, our Borough Council is one organization and our Board of Education is another organization. And while it is true that our citizens foot the bills in both cases, as a matter of fact, what one of these bodies does in the matter of raising and expending monies is in no way affected or controlled by the action of the other body.

Consequently, the "Less-Than-a-Mill" Bond Issue, on which the citizens of Narberth will vote on election day, Tuesday, November 8, to provide funds for the new Outdoor Community Center, will have absolutely no bearing on the Board of Education's right and capacity to provide the necessary funds for new school buildings.

In view of these facts, we have no hesitancy in saying that every citizen may go to the polls on election day and vote "Yes" on the Outdoor Community Center bond issue with the absolute assurance that his or her vote will in no way retard the enlargement of Narberth's school facilities to meet the needs of the children of our Borough.

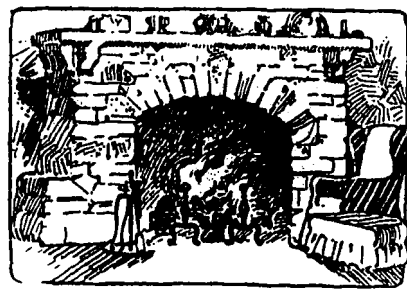

At the same time we say to you with equal frankness that we know of no better way for a voter to meet his or her responsibility as a citizen on election day than by voting "Yes" on this question.

Why?

Because—

First it will reclaim a tract of land

Dr. Robert Norwood to Address Big Open Meeting in Narberth Monday Night

AMERICAN LEGION POST INVITES ALL MEN OF NARBERTH TO SHARE IN THIS TREAT—PLAYGROUND PROJECT ALSO TO BE DISCUSSED—ENTERTAINMENT—ADMISSION FREE.

This is the last call for the big meeting on Monday night. By the time that the paper goes to press next week the meeting will be history, and all that we can do then is to tell you about it. But since "seeing is believing," we are sure that you will want to note these facts:

Place—Elm Hall.
Date—Monday evening, October 24.
Time—7.45 P. M.
Principal speaker—Doctor R. W. Norwood, of Overbrook.
Topic—The American Legion and the Community.
Other Features—Discussion of the Narberth Playground Bond Issue by Doctor O. J. Snyder. Entertainment.
Those Invited—All men of Narberth and their friends.
Admission—Free.

A Rare Opportunity to Hear Doctor Norwood.

The condensed information for those who have only time to read the top lines. For all others let's add more explanation. What is this meeting anyhow, and what is it all about? We will tell you all that we know, and then we will leave it to you to come and reap the benefit. It is the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion, and in accordance with our policy we set out to get the best in speakers to fill the program. When Doctor Norwood, of the St. Paul's Memorial Church, of Overbrook, consented to come we thought that it was too good a treat to keep only within the Legion circles, so we have thrown open the doors to all men in the community. We don't need to introduce Doctor

Norwood to our readers. His name is introduction enough and is guarantee of a worthwhile talk. And we ask the community to show its appreciation to Doctor Norwood by a turn-out that will tax the capacity of Elm Hall. The meeting is free to all the men of the community and their friends.

Playground Project to Be Discussed.

Do you know what is contained in the Playground Bond Issue that is to be voted upon at the election in November? We thought that this big meeting of men would afford an excellent opportunity to have the playground project explained. Accordingly we called upon our fellow townsman, Mr. J. J. Cabrey, who is President of the Narberth Playground Association, to arrange for a speaker on this subject. Fortunately Doctor O. J. Snyder, who was one of the initial group interested in the playground project, has consented to discuss the subject. So that the meeting on Monday night affords a double opportunity of profit to the men of the community.

Entertainment Features.

Now the social committee, with its wise insight into such matters, has woven a number of entertainment features into the more serious portions of the program, and stands ready to guarantee a profitable evening no matter from what angle you may view the program. We have reason to believe them, and are sure that you will do so after Monday night. Now just two more words and we are through—ALL OUT.

Hallowe'en Dance Next Friday Night

TENNIS PLAYERS AND FRIENDS TO HAVE MERRY PARTY AT ELM HALL—DINNER-DANCE NOVEMBER 12.

The annual Hallowe'en Dance of the Narberth Tennis Association will be held next Friday evening, October 28, at Elm Hall. Chairman Carl B. Metzger has engaged a popular orchestra and arranged a lively program, and there is every reason to believe that the affair will be a big success.

Friends of members of the Tennis Association may obtain tickets from members, or from Mr. Metzger either by writing him at his home, No. 15 Chestnut avenue, or phoning him, Narberth 693.

The Entertainment Committee decided to hold this dance on October 28 instead of October 31, because it was felt that more members would find it convenient to attend on the former than the latter date. There are always a good many regularly scheduled home parties on Hallowe'en, and a good many folks cannot conveniently arrange to attend dances on that night.

The Entertainment Committee also announces that Saturday night, November 12, has been selected for the Association's annual Dinner-Dance, which will be held at Elm Hall. This is the occasion at which the prizes awarded in the annual Tennis Tournament are presented to the winners. It is one of the most popular features of the Association's social season and members will want to make a note of the date—Saturday evening, November 12—and keep it free from any other engagements.

TO INCREASE REAL ESTATE ASSESSMENT

Is proposition that will be discussed at a meeting at the Women's Club, Ardmore, on Thursday evening, October 27, at 8.15. The Suburban Association of the Main Line extends an invitation to every property owner to hear a discussion on increasing the assessment on our real estate.

The purchase of the playground is of vital importance from a health standpoint. The children and adults of today take too little wholesome exercise in the fresh air and sports and out-door recreation should be encouraged.—Dr. Edwin C. Town.

League of Women Voters

MONTGOMERY COUNTY MEETING TO BE HELD IN NORRISTOWN, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27.

The attention of the members and friends of the local branch of the League of Women Voters is urgently called to the time and place of the above meeting.

The program as arranged for this day promises to be a most interesting one. All the women candidates for members of the School Board in the county will be asked to attend this meeting.

Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, the only woman on the State Board of Education, will address the meeting.

Annual election of officers is also to be held at this time. The meeting starts promptly at 10.30 A. M. and will be held in Trinity Hall, corner Swede and Elm streets, Norristown.

Members and friends have received by mail postal cards announcing this meeting, to which was attached a return addressed postal which you are requested to mail immediately if it is your intention to attend.

The Narberth League is planning to have several cars to transport members to Norristown, leaving Narberth Station at 9.30 A. M. promptly. Phone your reservation at once to Narberth 1638-M.

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSE AT BRYN MAWR.

College Establishes Chair in Memory of Dr. Howard Anna Shaw.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will hold several lectures at Bryn Mawr College on Citizenship. These lectures are free and everyone is invited. The first one is to be held on Thursday evening, October 27th. Don't miss this opportunity.

The Narberth League is to hold a meeting on November 4th. Program and place to be announced in next week's issue of Our Town.

PALACE THEATRE, ARDMORE, PA.

Program Week of Monday, October 24.

Monday, October 24, Bert Lytell in his very newest picture, "A Message from Mars." Tuesday, October 25, a show you cannot afford to miss, "The Branding Iron." Wednesday, October 26, William S. Hart in "O'Malley of the Mounted." Toonerville Trolleys. Thursday, October 27, Alice Brady in "Little Italy." Friday, October 28, "Love's Penalty." Saturday, October 29, Viola Dana in "Puppets of Fate."

Community Club Notes

LEGISLATIVE AND CURRENT EVENTS DAY ON TUESDAY.

All the members of the Club who attended the luncheon, which was a large percentage of the membership, will be anxious to attend the meeting next Tuesday, October 25th.

It is very appropriate inasmuch as it is so near election day, that the afternoon should be partly given to a talk on the questions which concern Narberth. Mrs. Ward Peirson will explain the Narberth Recreation Centre and election laws. Mrs. Peirson will not tell you which party ticket to vote, but will talk on the rules which govern every vote, no matter which party it may be. She will also speak upon subjects which are of vital interest to every citizen.

Mrs. George Bean will give an address on Current Events. Mrs. Bean gave an extensive lecture course in New York City last year. The Club is fortunate in securing Mrs. Bean for this date, as she is very busy in the lecture field.

Mrs. Joseph Barclay will provide the music.

The President, Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, is now in Pittsburgh attending the State Convention of Women's Federated Clubs. She will be at her post on Tuesday, however, and will doubtless have some very interesting experiences to relate, emanating from the various sessions of the convention.

CLUB AUTOMOBILE RIDE.

Since the automobile trip given last spring there have been several requests for another such delightful trip. The 29th of October has been suggested as the day to drive to Bryn Athyn. This is a greater distance than the spring drive and will necessitate starting about 11 o'clock and taking a box luncheon.

The 29th is the Saturday following the Club meeting. Members who drive cars and are willing to take them on this trip will please notify the President not later than next Tuesday at the meeting. On the spring drive one of the members was accompanied by her husband "as chauffeur." This may give some others an idea.

"Ding! Dong!"

"LET'S GO, LET'S GO, LET'S GO!"

Such is the animated opening of the famous Bell Chorus from Pagliacci, which will be sung by the Narberth Choral Society on November 8 in the Benefit Concert in the Metropolitan Opera House.

The full program will be announced in Our Town the week previous to the concert.

In the meantime, let us outline briefly the story of Pagliacci (pronounced Pak-yat-chee), which means—"The Players."

This is a dramatic opera in two acts, written by Leoncavallo, and first produced at Milan in 1892. Leoncavallo was the son of a magistrate and the story of Pagliacci is based on an actual occurrence in the court where his father presided as Judge.

Canio is master of a traveling troupe, composed of his wife Nedda, Tonio the clown, Peppino, and Silvio, a villager, in love with Nedda. The troupe arrives at the village Calabria, and parading through the town announces a performance for that evening, which news is greeted with much enthusiasm on the part of the peasants.

The company then disperses and goes to the inn to celebrate with the villagers, except Nedda, who is left alone. The Chorus of the Bells, the number to be rendered by the Choral, is sung by the peasants away in the distance. Nedda is troubled for fear Canio, her husband, is aware of her love affair with Silvio.

The clown Tonio intrudes and makes love to Nedda, while she is there dreaming of Silvio, but is repulsed. Silvio then appears, and Nedda promises to fly with him that night. Tonio spies upon them, and in revenge informs Canio, who returns quickly from the tavern and just misses Silvio, who escapes. There is a terrific quarrel between Canio and Nedda, in which Canio almost kills her.

The performance is about to start, and has a plot exactly in keeping, almost to the detail, with the tragedy being enacted in these troupers' lives. Canio is heart-broken at the loss of his wife's love, and wonders how he can go through with the farce. The curtain is drawn aside, and Nedda and Pappe (her lover in the troupers' play) are feasting. Finally (just as it had oc-

A BIG AFFAIR.

The American Legion meeting at Elm Hall next Monday night promises to be the biggest affair of its kind ever attempted by our local Post.

Certain it is, that the selection of Dr. Norwood as the speaker of the evening will bring out many men who are not Legion members. Dr. Norwood is very well known both as a preacher and speaker, and his great popularity gives testimony of his ability.

And in addition to this, an opportunity will be afforded to the men of Narberth to become thoroughly familiar with the ideas and principles of the Outdoor Community Center, which will be explained by Dr. O. J. Snyder. Dr. Snyder has been deeply interested in this splendid undertaking since its inception, and his talk will undoubtedly be of great interest.

The Legion, in opening this meeting to all men of Narberth, should be rewarded by a record attendance.

Communications

To the Editor of Our Town:

In order to dispel a rumor that is more or less current in the borough in regard to the football game played on the school grounds last Friday, the writer wishes to state that the manager and players of the Brown Preparatory team knew before coming to Narberth that the team they were to play was not to be a representative school team, but was to be made up of school players and ex-pupils of the school.

The game was not a scheduled game, but was arranged solely to afford practice to both teams, neither of which has a sufficient number of players to make scrimmage practice possible.

Those interested in the school may rest assured that no pupil will be played on any school team who is not regularly enrolled as a student in the school.

(Signed) HERBERT S. HERZOG.

DR. O. J. SNYDER.

POSTMASTERS' CONVENTION.

The convention of Postmasters and Postal Employees in Washington, D. C., October 11, 12, 13, which I was privileged to attend, was indeed a most inspiring and pleasant occasion.

The sessions by postmasters of the first and second class were held in the new National Museum and were addressed by able men in the service from various offices throughout the United States and also by the Postmaster General, Will H. Hayes, and the four Assistant Postmasters General.

The big thought at the convention was how to render the best kind of service, with the cooperation of the public, in conducting the gigantic business of the Post Office Department. That it is a big business was illustrated by the Postmaster General when he stated that, regarding parcel post matter, he had recently been advised by the President of the American Railways Express Company that their company had handled four million express packages in 1920. "Well," Mr. Hayes replied, "that's a lot of packages, but we in the Post Office Department, in the same period, handled two billion, six hundred million packages."

While "Service" is the watchword, much attention is being given to the three hundred and twenty-five thousand employees in the service. It is the thought of those charged with the responsibility of good service that such service can best be secured when the great army of employees are provided with proper sanitary and other working conditions beneficial to their health and happiness. With this worthy end in view, a National Welfare Council has been organized for the Post Office Department.

There is no doubt but the many who were privileged to attend this great convention of postmasters and postal employees were greatly inspired and benefited by what they saw and heard with reference to the service in which they are engaged.

A very pleasant feature of the occasion was a reception at the White House by President and Mrs. Harding, to which all visiting postmasters and assembled delegates of postal organizations were invited. This reception was held on Wednesday afternoon and was very largely attended.

EDWARD S. HAWS,
Postmaster.

NATIONAL MAIL RECEPACLE AND HOUSE NUMBER DAY OCTOBER 19.

The Post Office Department has designated October 19 as a day upon which a National Campaign is to be started for the purpose of having all residences and buildings to which mail is delivered provided with a proper number and receptacle for the mail.

This is one of the ways in which the PUBLIC can best help to expedite the delivery of mail.

In places where the free delivery service has recently been established a receptacle is required before the service is extended. We have therefore in Narberth no problem in this respect, but as to house numbers. There are quite a few that are not properly numbered, and every resident in Narberth whose house is not properly numbered is urged to co-operate in this matter so that we may report our town as being 100 per cent. in this respect. Where a house has no number displayed or an incorrect number there is liable to be delay in delivery, particularly when it is necessary to have substitute carriers on duty who cannot be familiar with the existing condition.

EDWARD S. HAWS,
Postmaster.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." A Community which has a Recreation Field is blessed, as it affords both young and old an opportunity to take much needed and much neglected outdoor exercise which is essential to the development of both mind and body.—Dr. Romaine C. Hoffman.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF NARBERTH.

The biggest assets of a community are not its property values, however imposing. They are the health and happiness of its people. To promote these is a policy of enlightened self-interest and of transcendent importance. That is the virtue in every law for the better ordering of the community's affairs, in every project for its betterment. That is the justification and the inspirational force behind the undertaking which the Narberth Outdoor Community Center represents.

No resident of the borough, it is to be hoped, needs at this late day any assurance or persuasion as to the merits of the bond issue proposal that will be voted upon November 8th. But there are certain considerations to be urged from the physician's point of view that should add enthusiasm to conviction among the loyal supporters of the plan. This is no mere manifestation of material development; it has a far-reaching social and moral significance.

The instinct of play is Nature's stimulus in childhood and preservative in maturity. The toddler trundling a hoop on the pavement, the youngster on the sandlot diamond, the striving youth on the football gridiron, are following the same impulse that sends their fathers to the seashore or the golf links. Whether play be the most important thing in life, as it seems to the young, or the instinctive relaxation from productive work, as it is in their elders, all normal human beings feel the need of it, and to satisfy that need is to benefit them in body, mind and soul.

Open air exercise in its multifarious forms is the ideal expression of the instinct. But when left to themselves, the young do not always use their opportunities to the best advantage; they are liable to fall into over exertion, or to acquire an unbalanced physical development. It is here that the modern playground fulfills an important function. Supervision—sympathetic but not officious, scientifically trained but not rigid or repressive—turns the restless energies of youth into channels which insure the greatest benefits to the individual and to society. Rational open air exercise under wise supervision has incalculable value. It provides not only the necessary equipment, but a healthy atmosphere and environment which bring physical, mental and moral blessings.

So much competent testimony has been given as to the social value of consummation of the playground idea that consideration hardly needs emphasis. As a center of community life, as an encouragement to civic pride, neighborliness and wholesome fellowship, nothing could promise more. Who can measure the immediate material and aesthetic benefits that will flow from the transformation of an unsightly waste into a place of beauty, a veritable garden of childhood, a perpetual influence for the brightening of lives and the promotion of physical, mental and moral well-being? If he who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before be a public benefactor, the people of Narberth have an opportunity for a collective achievement in service that should be memorable indeed. And it is no negligible incentive that by carrying to success this accomplishment Narberth will give an inspiring example to the whole Main Line, perhaps the proudest collection of suburban communities in the United States.

But to the physician the dominating thought will be the potential betterment of life for the individual and the group. All schools of learning agree now that the prevention of disease provides for the scientist a greater field than its cure. Sacred is the function of the physician to alleviate pain, to strive against the maladies which assail the human organism. But no less is it his obligation to encourage practices for the preservation of health, to teach the next and coming generations how they may gain and preserve that vigor of body and mind, that serenity of spirit, which fortify the complex structure against the insidious attacks of disease.

To promote these ends there is nothing more serviceable than wholesome exercise and relaxation in the open air, which will be immeasurably encouraged by the creation of a beautiful and well equipped playground for the people.

Noted Poet Gives Autographed Book

T. A. DALY, FAMOUS FOR HIS ITALIAN DIALECT VERSES, PRESENTS VOLUME TO NARBERTH LIBRARY.

New and interesting books are being added each week to our Narberth Community Library, but this past week has brought to the library shelves in the Y. M. C. A. building a volume that for various reasons will be of peculiar interest to Narberth folks.

It is "McAroni Ballads," by T. A. Daly, and is autographed by the author, who very graciously presented it to the Narberth Library.

Frequently it happens that a man is "not without honor save in his own country," which being translated often means his "own locality." But happily this is not true of Mr. Daly.

A Philadelphian by birth and life-long residence, Tom Daly is both read and appreciated by the "home folks." Also he is popular throughout the country. And this is as it should be, for his poems are as fine as anything of their kind that have been written.

Many of his Irish dialect verses are veritable gems, while his Italian dialect verses are distinctly and universally admitted to be without any rivals. No American poet has done so much as Mr. Daly toward revealing to the American people the warm-hearted kindness of the Italian.

Those of Mr. Daly's many followers who do not know it will be interested in learning that he was an old friend of the late James Whitcomb Riley and that the Hoosier poet took occasion many times to compliment Mr. Daly on his verses.

"McAroni Ballads" contains many of Mr. Daly's best poems as well as many of his Irish and Italian dialect verses, among the latter two notable favorites, "So Glad for Spreng" and "For Goodness Sake!" It also includes two bits of verse that have a distinct Philadelphia flavor, one, "Along the Wissahickon" and "Rubicon Road," the latter referring to Tom Daly's own home street in Germantown. The frontispiece, which illustrates "Rubicon Road," was made by Herbert Pullinger, the well-known artist, who is also a Philadelphian. The volume is dedicated "To the Memory of Joyce Kilmer," the young American poet-soldier who was killed in the Great War and who was one of Mr. Daly's most intimate personal friends.

Mr. Daly is also the author of four other volumes of verse, "Carmina," "Canzoni," "Madrigali" and "Songs of Wedlock," all of which, along with "McAroni Ballads," are published in a uniform edition by Harcourt, Brace & Co.

It gives me great pleasure to indorse the movement to secure a Recreation Center for Narberth, and it would seem that the time is now ripe for such action. — Rev. John Van Ness.

WESTMINSTER CIRCLE.

The October meeting of the Westminster Circle was held Thursday evening, the 13th, at the home of Mrs. Carroll, Elmwood avenue. Mrs. E. U. Smith and Mrs. S. A. White were hostesses with Mrs. Carroll. Twenty-six members responded to roll call, and there were fifteen guests present, several of whom added their names to the membership list.

The meeting was conducted very efficiently by the new President, Mrs. Arley C. Farmer, who with her seemingly endless supply of enthusiasm has urged the members of the Circle to do their utmost in this year's work.

There are at least fifty nurses' surgical aprons to be made for the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia this winter, according to the report of our able chairman of the Sewing Committee, Mrs. Wm. J. Loughlin.

Then in answer to an appeal made by Mrs. W. J. Kirkpatrick, there is the bag to be filled for the Bala Home for Thanksgiving—but why should we stop with filling a bag? It was enthusiastically voted to take up a collection with which to buy jello, junket, cornstarch, and other supplies wanted for the bag. And in addition we will raid our preserve closets for jellies, jams, conserves and all the delicacies which might make happier the hearts of our Bala Home neighbors. The homes of Mrs. Loughlin and Mrs. Warwick will be open to receive the donations any time before November 3rd.

With Mrs. Brownell and Mrs. Warwick in charge of the Nursery Committee we are assured of a successful venture there. In their report it was suggested that the nursery be advertised more extensively, as seemingly few of our congregation are taking advantage of this opportunity of leaving their children to be entertained and cared for while they attend the morning service. We have a nursery equipped with toys which will amuse the children and shall be delighted to have as many as possible leave their little ones in our charge.

Mrs. Fair, chairman of the Flower Committee, will secure the flowers for the church during November, and will be very glad to hear from any members who have any fall flowers to give her.

The Entertainment Committee, of which Mrs. H. I. McConnell is chairman, are in readiness to work for us and with their help we are hoping to give Narberth a treat later this season.

The new officers, Mrs. Boileau as Treasurer and Mrs. Crater as Secretary, ably performed their duties, and we feel that we have efficient executives.

After the business meeting adjourned, delightful refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Burns.

To attempt to get along with bare essentials does not correspond with the proper spirit of suburban life. Narberth needs an Outdoor Recreation Centre and ought to have it.—Clarence J. Gallagher.

ity Club, will resume its activities on the above date.

Miss Marjorie Carter will be in charge of the class instruction, and the committee consider themselves very fortunate in having procured so able a teacher. Miss Carter has been tutored by some of the best masters in Pennsylvania and has appeared in many classical roles at the Academy of Music and before many clubs, and is making this her life work. Every possible attention to details will be given the pupils who enroll.

Hostesses will be assigned for each meeting. For terms and other particulars phone Narberth 1638-M.

curred a few hours before) Canio (as Punchinello) discovers the lovers. Peppe (Harlequin) leaps from the window and Nedda sings "Till tonight, then," which are the very words she had used in her promise to her real lover, Silvio, earlier in the day. Canio, with suppressed rage, tries to play his part (trying not to remember that this farce is but a repetition of his own conflict), but at length, not able to restrain his jealousy any longer, demands the right to know who Nedda's lover is, whose name he had been unable as yet to learn.

Nedda endeavors to pass this all off as part of the actual evening's entertainment, but Canio, now beside himself, becomes more and more infuriated. The audience of villagers believes this to be especially fine acting, and give vent to their appreciation by frequent clapping.

Unconscious now of their very presence, Canio protests against the wrong inflicted upon him, and rushes toward Nedda and stabs her.

In falling, Nedda cries, "Oh, help me, Silvio!" Silvio (in the audience) has drawn his dagger and leaps to the platform, encountering Canio, who exclaims, "Ah 'tis you! 'Tis well!" and thrusts his stiletto through his breast.

As Canio is disarmed by the peasants and led away, stupefied, he murmurs, "The comedy is ended!" (Curtain.)

The stories connected with some of the other choruses to be sung by the Choral at the Metropolitan concert will be given probably in the next two issues of Our Town.

Also themes of operas given from time to time in Philadelphia this winter may be sketched briefly by the Choral's newspaper correspondents, especially those operas in response to special request.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

The Outdoor Community Center Will Facilitate Our School Progress

that is one of the sorriest sights along the Main Line or in any of the suburban area around Philadelphia, and which because it is in NARBERTH reflects on not only our town as a whole, but on every individual citizen.

Second, it will make of that present "eye-sore" an asset to Narberth as a community and to every individual resident of Narberth.

Third, it will obliterate a breeding place for mosquitos and flies, all of which constitute a menace to the health of Narberth and to the health of every man, woman and child living in Narberth.

Fourth, it will give to Narberth a field for baseball, football, track meets, and every other kind of healthful, wholesome outdoor recreational athletics and sports.

Do you believe in these things? Are you willing to back up and support movements that make for developments that make the community in which you live a healthier and better place in every way?

If you do, then go to the polls on election day, Tuesday, November 8, and vote "Yes" on the bond issue that will provide the funds for the Outdoor Community Center.

DR. O. J. SNYDER TO DISCUSS RECREATION CENTER AT LEGION MEETING.

The American Legion Post will hold an interesting public meeting next Monday evening, October 24, in Elm Hall, at which Dr. O. J. Snyder will explain in detail the new Outdoor Recreation Community Center which will be voted on at the November election.

Rev. Dr. Robert W. Norwood, of St. Paul's Memorial Church, Overbrook, will also deliver an address.

While this meeting is being held under the auspices of the Post, the officers of the Legion want it understood that the affair is a public one and extend a cordial invitation to all the men of Narberth to attend.

THE FIRESIDE

Mrs. John B. Brooks entertained at luncheon at the Stevenson Hotel on Friday, when her guests were Miss Marie Brueckman, of Ventnor; Mrs. R. M. L. Stanton, of Chelsea, and Mr. Ralph W. Bates, of Vineland.

The carnival held by the folks at Fairview Sunday School on Friday and Saturday evenings was very well attended by friends from all the surrounding communities. A most enjoyable time was experienced by all who came. One hundred and eighty-five dollars was cleared for the use of the Sunday School.

Mrs. Cora Latch had charge, assisted by Mrs. E. S. Duebler, Mrs. Nathan Montgomery, Mrs. Kerrick, Mrs. Horsley, Mrs. Kirk, Miss Anna Latch and other friends.
